The club now has a membership of 52 senior members, 17 junior members, 50 honorary members and one life member, and 49 members of ladies' auxiliary, a total of 169.

COAL MEN GO FREE.

Indictments Against West Virginia And Ohio Bituminous Operators Dismissed.

New York, July 6.—Indictments were dismissed yesterday by Federal Judge Grubb in the case of William Leckie, of Welch, W. Va., and Robert G. Patterson, of Dayton, O., on trial with a number of other semi-bituminous coal operators on a charge of restraining trade and fixing prices. The indictment was also dismissed in the case of S. J. Patterson, of Pittsburgh, Pa., and the Weynoske Coal and Coke Company, in which Patterson is interested. Judge Grubb, in dismissing the indictments, said he believed the government should do more than show that sales agents of the defendants and their companies committed certain acts.

"It has not been shown that these men or their companies authorized the agents to act for them in any alleged conspiracy," he said.

Two Negroes and a Negress Arrested Yesterday Afternoon for Violating the Prohibition Law.

A one-legged negro named James Sullivan, another of the same race known as William Fyfe, and Ora Dove, a negress, were arrested yesterday afternoon by Officer Reed on the charge of violating the prohibition law. Nine bottles of whisky were taken from the trio. It is supposed they intended to engage in business with soldiers encamped near Alexandria. The prisoners were conducted to the bar of the Police Court this morning, and after the testimony of the officer had been taken they were ordered to be held for the action of the grand jury.

Henry Twyman, colored, had been arrested on the charge of assaulting James Brown, colored. The latter failed to appear, but the officer who arrested Twyman testified that he was drunk when taken in custody. He was fined $5, and not having the necessary wherewithal he will serve the next twenty days in jail.

A resident of the southeastern section of the city was charged with allowing his horse to run at large. He was dismissed upon promising to keep the animal upon his own premises in future.

The police report that one hundred pounds of copper wire were removed last night from poles of the Postal Telegraph Company near Bayley's cross roads, a short distance west of this city. It is said that thieves recently removed copper wire from poles of the Western Union Telegraph Company.

The following States are partially affected by the act, and the bulletin shows in detail the territory by cities, towns, or other political subdivisions affected: California, Connecticut, Delaware, Louisiana, Maryland, Massachusetts, Minnesota, New Hampshire, New York, Ohio, and Texas.

The following are affected by the Federal Act at future dates as follows: Alaska, January 1, 1918; Indiana, April 3, 1918; Michigan, April 30, 1918; Montana, December 31, 1918, and Utah, August 1, 1917.

The following are not affected by the Federal Act: District of Columbia, Florida, Guam, Hawaii, Illinois, Wisconsin, Kentucky, Porto Rico, Missouri, Nevada, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, and Wyoming.

Ethyl alcohol is regarded as an intoxicating liquor within the meaning of the act, but methyl alcohol, wood alcohol, and denatured alcohol are not so regarded. No ruling is made as to the status of medicine or tonics containing alcohol.

A good game has been scheduled for next Sunday afternoon on the Union station ground for the baseball fans of this city, when the Cardinals will line up against their ancient enemies, the Rex Athletic Club of Washington. James E. Wright, manager of the Rex team, has notified the Cardinals' chief, Robert E. McDonald, that he will bring down his best players to stop the Cardinals, and it is expected that both teams will put up an exhibition of stellar baseball. The Cardinals will use the same line-up, in all probability, as they used last Sunday against the Washington all-star aggregation.

WORKING FOR RED CROSS.

Mrs. Woodrow Wilson Setting Good Example Before the Women of The Country in Making Garments

Four dozen pairs of pajamas, and an equal number of sheets and pillow-cases, the work of Mrs. Woodrow Wilson and Miss Helen Woodrow Bones for the American Red Cross, during the past month, have been divided equally and distributed to the Red Cross societies of England, France, Italy and Canada.

Mrs. Wilson and Miss Bones have been devoting much time to sewing for the Red Cross and their example has been followed by women high in official and diplomatic circles. Mrs. Thomas R. Marshall, wife of the Vice President, organized the wives of the senators, and they have been meeting weekly to sew for the Red Cross. Mrs. Franklin K. Lane, wife of the Secretary of the Interior, organized the women of the Interior Department for the same purpose, while Mrs. David P. Houston, wife of the Secretary of Agriculture is working along other lines of Red Cross work.

In a letter to the British Red Cross Society regarding Mrs. Wilson's handiwork, Elliot Wadsworth, Acting Chairman of the Central Committee, wrote as follows:

"We are sending you under separate cover a bundle containing one dozen pillow-cases, three pairs of pajamas, and a half dozen sheets. These supplies have been made by Mrs. Woodrow Wilson and Miss Helen Woodrow Bones. Mrs. Wilson and Miss Bones work with their own hands on Red Cross supplies and have sent to the American Red Cross for distribution the product of their first months work, which is very material in quantity.

The American Red Cross sends this special shipment to the British Red Cross at the request of Mrs. Wilson to evidence her active and most practical interest in the work of mercy and relief carried on by Red Cross societies. "We trust that the shipment will reach you safely, as it

The Seventh Day Adventist church service will be held in the Odd Fellows' Hall tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock. Elder F. E. Gibson will preach on the subject "At the Time Appointed the End Shall Be." All are cordially invited. This evening at Fort Hill an open air meeting will be conducted by Mr. Gibson from 7 to 8 o'clock. His subject will be, "Is God's Law Still Binding?"

Gypsy Smith, Jr., the evangelist, who closed his series of meetings at Manassas on Sunday evening last, will deliver his lecture "From a Gypsy Tent to the Pulpit," at the tabernacle in Manassas on Sunday evening next. There were 85 professions made at the meeting held last night, after which Mr. Smith went to Noank, Conn., to spend the week with his family.

SLACKERS SENTENCED.

Given Year and a Day in Chicago House of Correction.

Freeport, Ill., July 6.—Opponents of military service who defied the Federal registration law here, last month were meted heavy punishment and scathing rebukes here today by Judge K. M. Landis in the United States district court. Of 121 men arrested in Rockford during the anti-draft disturbances there 117 were sentenced to serve one year and a day in the Chicago house of correction, two escaped with 30-day sentences, one with 60 days and another with 90 days.

"Hard labor" was specified in pronouncing sentence and court attaches said it was because the prisoners would live under more rigorous conditions in the Chicago corrective institution than they were sentenced there rather than to a Federal penitentiary.

ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE.

Senator Mapp Would Give Officers Right to Search Personal Baggage in Train and Autos.

Norfolk, Va., July 6.—Advocacy of a prohibition amendment to the State Constitution and of national prohibition, and a clause urging all temperance people to support prohibition candidates for such State offices as have to do with making and enforcing laws were the high lights of the report of the legislative committee of the State Anti-Saloon League made to the last session of the league convention yesterday morning by Dr. James Cannon, Jr., chairman.

Mrs. W. H. Yates and children, of south Patrick street, left this afternoon for Remington, Va., where they will spend several weeks.

Announcement is made of the marriage of Mrs. Elizabeth Henderson and J. Leo Smith, both of this city, which took place in Baltimore, July 1.

An interesting meeting of Alexandria Council, Order Fraternal Americans was held last evening. One application for membership was received. A number of candidates will receive degrees at the next meeting. The recently elected officers were installed by Deputy State President, James H. Mansfield. The committees having under consideration various lines of activities made encouraging reports. Addresses were made by Harry J. Johans, of Baltimore, and James B. Mansfield, the latter giving a resume of the National Council meeting which he recently attended and at which he was honored by election to one of the National offices.

A largely attended entertainment was given last night for the men in uniform around Alexandria by the Young Men's Sociality Lyceum in Lyceum Hall on Duke street. The young men of this organization have arranged to give similar entertainments for the soldiers and sailors in the vicinity every Thursday night and that the affairs are highly popular can be attested to by the large attendance both of uniformed men and others at those held this far. Last night the Rev. Lawrence Kelly, assistant pastor of St. Mary's Catholic Church, made the address of welcome. Corporal Blanchard, 12th Artillery, Private Moran, 12th Artillery, and Miss Mary Leonard, gave recitations. Corporal Trout, Fifth Maryland Infantry, rendered a solo, and Corporal Cadett, 12th Artillery, and Miss Ella Hill, piano solos. Herman Godfrey, United States Marine Reserves and Lawrence Roland presented a comical sketch, and at the close of the program the audience sang "The Star Spangled Banner." The entertainment wound up with a dance in which nearly all participated.

PORTRAIT UNVEILED

Andrew Jackson Masonic Lodge Adorns its Rooms With Handsome Oil Portrait of Grand Master Field

A large number of the Masonic fraternity of the city were in attendance at Andrew Jackson Lodge last night at the unveiling of a handsome oil painting of Henry K. Field, past master of the lodge and grand master of the state of Virginia. William L. Allen unveiled the picture and made the presentation address on the part of the committee in charge composed of J. E. Timberman, James E. Alexander and Mr. Allen. Worshipful Master Walter S. Nicklin accepted the portrait in a brief speech on behalf of the lodge, and addresses were also made by the Rev. E. V. Regeater and James E. Alexander. Mr. Field responded to the addresses in a very appreciative and earnest manner. The portrait was painted by artist L. H. Gebhard, of Washington, and is most excellently done. It has been hung in a conspicuous place on the walls of the lodge room.

At the Picture Theatres.

Alice Joyce and Harry Morpy will be seen at the Richmond tonight in "The Question," a play showing how the stroke of a pen might have barred the gates of society against a man and a woman. The "Mystery of the Double Cross," will also be shown.

At the Surprise Tonight.

Nance O'Neil, brilliant emotional actress, is starred in the new Powell-Mutual picturization of Henrik Ibsen's famous play "Hedda Gabler." Miss O'Neil has seldom been seen to better advantage than she appears in the character of "Hedda Gabler," the self-centered, selfish and dangerous woman with her deadly mania for pistols to fondle as though they were living pets, her fierce passions and her unbridled influence over the men of her acquaintance.

NAVAL SHIPS CONVOYS MAY CLOSE THE SCHOOL

Steamer Northland Accompanied by Naval Vessels While Coming up the Bay Last Night.

The steamer Northland, of the Norfolk and Washington Line, which reached this port at six o'clock this morning, was convoyed by United States men-of-war part of the way up the Chesapeake Bay early last night on account of a submarine scare in Hampton Roads early in the evening. A dispatch from Fortress Monroe says:

Hampton Roads was given a real submarine scare last night by a report brought to the commandant of Fort Monroe that two incoming vessels had sighted a periscope in Chesapeake Bay 5 miles off the fort. Immediate precautions were taken, and at a late hour last night naval vessels still were scouring the lower bay seeking an enemy. Merchant vessels about to sail were held up, and the Washington and Baltimore steamers were escorted from the Roads and part of their way up the bay by warships.

Col. Foote, commandant of the fort, would not comment upon the scare beyond saying that while the reports might not prove to be well founded, no chances would be taken. Neither the War Department nor the Navy Department received a report last night on the Hampton Roads submarine scare.

SINKS SHIP, SLAYS CAPTAIN

Use of Possibly Last Torpedo Angers Teuton So That He Almost Becomes Captive.

Baltimore, July 6.—W. H. Brown, a seaman, who says he was on two steamers that were sunk by submarines, declared yesterday that he was on the Italian steamship Palermo, which on October 2 was sunk in the Mediterranean by an Austrian submarine.

"We were steaming through the Mediterranean on December 2 with a full general cargo for Italy and our vessel was unarmed," he declared. "The submarine halted us with a shot across the bows and ran up the signal to take to the lifeboats. We did, and several shots were fired at the Palermo. They did not take effect, however, and a torpedo was sent into her side. She sank within a few minutes.

"Whether the fact that he had to use a torpedo to send our vessel to the bottom angered the German commander I do not know, but the underwater boat came directly alongside of our lifeboats. The commander was on the deck and yelled: 'Where is the captain of that ship?'

"Captain Brown stood up, and made his way closer to the side where the German was standing. The German pulled out his revolver and held it close to Captain Brown's head. 'You'll never bring another ship across this ocean,' he said, using several oaths and calling the captain a vile name. Then he pulled the trigger. Captain Brown, fell dead, with nearly half of his head blown away, and we were permitted to continue. After about seven hours we made our way into a port in Spain."

TROUBLE IN AUSTRIA

Bohemian Troops Join Armies of New Russia.

From high Italian sources today comes important information to the effect that a new peace movement by Germany is in the air. At the same time, through like sources, comes information that Bohemian troops in large numbers have joined the Russian forces and are serving under Brusiloff.

The significance of the fact that Bohemian troops are with Brusiloff, as viewed in allied diplomatic quarters here, is great. It means that powerful forces in the Austrian empire are turning against the pro-German coterie which is keeping Austria-Hungary in the war, and that a process of disintegration is on.

Hallowell Building on North Alfred Street Will Have Seen its Day by the End of the Year.

Eleven of the twelve members of the City School Board attended the regular monthly meeting last night. Most of the business transacted was of a general nature. The board postponed the election of a principal for the high school until the next meeting. Messrs. Ray, of Norfolk, Arbuckle, of North Carolina, and Gilliam and Summers, high school teachers, are candidates for the position.

During the session it was generally agreed that if some movement was not inaugurated at once for the erection of a building in which to house colored children it would be necessary to close the school on north Alfred street, as the structure is beyond repair.

The attention of the City Council was called to the serious conditions confronting the School Board some time ago, and although certain suggestions concerning the purchase of a lot have since been made, nothing definite has been done towards relieving present conditions. According to the law, when a building becomes unsanitary, unsuitable or dangerous for public school purposes, the school in such structures must be closed until other accommodations shall have been prepared.

The history of the buildings used for colored school purposes has often been told in the Gazette. The building on north Alfred street and the structure which up to a year or two ago stood on south Pitt street were erected by the government during the civil war. They were temporary structures from the first, and after the public school system became operative in the early seventies the buildings were turned over to the city of Alexandria. The structure on north Alfred street is known as the Hallowell School, and that on south Pitt street was the Snowden School. The latter was destroyed by fire recently. Thousands of dollars have been spent in repairs during the past forty-odd years.

Two vacancies were announced in the corps of teachers in the graded schools—Miss Elizabeth Louise Ruppert, of the West End School, having resigned, and Miss Margaret Archambeault, recently elected a teacher, subsequently declined the position. Miss Elizabeth Smith, of Loudoun, and Miss Portia Moran, of Manassas, were elected to fill these vacancies. C. Madison Ray, of Norfolk, was elected a teacher in the high school.

Bessie Riddick and James Howard were elected teachers in the colored boys' school. The other teachers in the colored schools were re-elected.

The board adjourned after having been in session about two hours and a half.

BODY UNIDENTIFIED.

Body Found in Potomac at Shipyard in Charge of Washington Authorities.

Efforts on the part of the Washington police to establish the identity of the white man found drowned at the shipyard in this city yesterday, had proved futile up to an early hour this morning. Rumors that the body, which had presumably been in the water for months, was decapitated when found, were disproved by the authorities last night following further examination of the corpse.

The police are of the opinion that the condition of the man's head, which gives the appearance of having been badly battered, was caused by the body running against some object while in the water.

The body is that of a man of about 5 feet 10 inches in height and weighing about 180 pounds. The corpse was clothed in a dark colored shirt and trousers and did not have on either shoes or socks.

THE STRIKE MANIA.

In these perilous times, when the resources of our country are being taxed far beyond anything the present generation has ever witnessed, it is unfortunate that the strike fever shows no abatement. Dispatches from New York say labor leaders in that city and New Jersey claim that already six thousand men have quit the shipyards and that ten thousand may be in the strikers' ranks within the next few hours.

A strike of the employees of the Third Avenue, New York, Railway and its affiliated companies is also being considered by representatives of the Amalgamated Electric and Street Railway Employees' Association of America.

We are not called upon to sit in judgment upon the issues which are about to bring about trouble in the shipyards and among the railways in New York, but it seems that this is an inopportune time to precipitate labor convulsions. Our country has entered into war with an unreasonable and cruel autocratic government which is attempting to extinguish the torch in the hand of the Goddess of Liberty which has been shedding its beneficent rays so long.

When the Dingley tariff bill became operative many years ago a Berlin paper represented the Goddess of Liberty with a huge key in her right hand instead of her torch. While this was intended as a biting commentary upon our tariff law, the time has come when a key is needed to keep out of our land spies who seem to have honeycombed every place in the United States.

It is no time to strike, but Americans should do all in their power to aid the government in fighting this foe to our institutions. But if our shipyards are to be tied up at this critical period in our national history the country's power will surely be impaired. Let us hope the trouble now brewing between employers and employees will soon be settled.

THE FOURTH IN LONDON.

At first sight it seems funny to read about the Fourth of July being celebrated with so much enthusiasm in London, and the cynical may be inclined to think that there was more policy than sincerity in the honor paid to an anniversary which is associated with a challenge to British sovereignty. If George III, Lord Cornwallis and the British autocrats of Revolutionary times could have revisited London on Wednesday, they might have been amazed at the spectacle of the "rebel" banner flying over every part of their capital, and might have been shocked to learn that an anthem which the populace was wildly acclaiming commemorated a signal disaster to British arms. George Washington, could he have dropped in on the scene, might have been a little surprised, too, at the changes in international points of view since his time. That is to say, if world news is not posted regularly on the press bulletins of the stately spheres in which former mortals now play their part.

The Baltimore Sun in commenting upon these changed conditions says but for us, who can look backward and read the whole romance of freedom from 1776 to this day, the last chapter is a logical and natural result of the first. There is no inconsistency in the reformation of the bold national buccaneer, nor in his recognition of the fact that we were fighting in 1776 for British liberty as well as for our own. Great Britain has maintained her greatness because she was able to learn from us, because she was wise enough to adopt the principles of the Declaration of Independence as her own. King George was overthrown, political tyranny and governmental arrogance were beaten in the struggle which our Declaration formally inaugurated, but England was set free from the remaining manacles of autocracy and a new spirit was breathed into her that has since by the capacity of those who handle made her a rival leader in democratic progress. The British people of this generation have good reason to celebrate the Fourth. We helped to remake England in making ourselves.

PAYING THE COST OF WAR.

Many of us recollect when Prussia brought France to her knees; the conditions of peace she imposed seemed to the world cruel and crushing. In addition to ceding Alsace and Lorraine to her conqueror, France was to pay a war indemnity of 5,000,000,000 francs, and continue to be occupied by German troops until the last franc was handed over.

The sum demanded was as iniquitous as it was colossal. France could scarcely pay it within a score of years, and for that term would be condemned to groan under the heel of her oppressor. So the world thought; but, to the world's amazement, France had paid the last franc and the German soldier had left her soil within three years.

When Russia vanquished Turkey nearly 40 years ago it was estimated that her victory had cost her $725,000,000—at the rate of $2,160,000 a day. All she asked of Turkey, however, was an indemnity of $160,000,000.

When Prussia beat Austria, in 1866, all that was demanded in cash from the latter was $10,000,000. The Chinese indemnity paid to Japan was $175,000,000.

When, in 1897, the Turks had the Greeks at their mercy, a paltry $10,000,000 was all that Greece handed to her conqueror, and the opium war of 1840-41, ended in China paying the trifling sum of $22,500,000 to Great Britain for the expenses of making war on her, in addition to $6,250,000 for opium destroyed.

The Philadelphia North American suggests that for generosity toward a conquered foe, the record of the United States can't be beat. It was in 1898 that we had a little difference with Spain. Spain was, of course, badly beaten, and in the end was obliged to cede Cuba, Porto Rico, the Ladrone Islands and the Philippines, an area of territory about three times the size of England.

But so that there should be no soreness, America actually paid over $20,000,000 to the Madrid government, and, more than that, returned all the Spanish soldiers, together with their arms, paying the whole bill of transportation and other expenses.

This is not the first time that Washington has been equally generous. After the Mexican War of 60 years ago, when she had taken California, she paid over to the vanquished nation a very large indemnity.

PRUSSIANISM AT ITS PUREST.

There is a world of meaning in the words of the German General von Blume, who publishes a review of the military situation in the semi-official North German Gazette. "With our three allies," he says, "we now have to guard ourselves against thirteen entirely hostile and nine half-hostile states, comprising the greatest part of the earth's inhabitants. The more enemies the more honor."

The Charleston News and Courier says nothing could be more typically Prussian than that. Nothing could illustrate more powerfully the extraordinary vanity, the amazing conceit of the German ruling classes, which has convinced them that the Germans are the chosen people; that German Kultur is superior to any other culture, and must be imposed, by force if necessary, upon the other and "inferior" peoples. This vanity is utterly unshaken by the fact that the great majority of the earth's inhabitants entertain a very different opinion of the Germans, of German Kultur, and of Germany's cause in this struggle.

General von Blume points out that Germany and her three allies are now opposed by "thirteen entirely hostile and nine half-hostile states." He seems to take pride in this. It has not dawned upon him that he is emphasizing the very fact which is most damning to Germany—the fact that the opinion of the great majority of mankind is adverse to her.

FOOD COST AND WAGES.

(Baltimore American.)

One very pregnant cause of the high cost of living is not sufficiently taken into account. This is the demand, out of all proportion to services of times, of labor for increased pay. All along the line of skilled and unskilled employment the demand is being made and the scarcity of labor gives success to the demand for increases of wages. So that while the pure food law when passed will tend to lower the cost of living where this is brought about by the capacity of those who handle foodstuffs, it will not have any effect upon the situation, as this is caused by the exorbitant demands of labor for increases of pay. No one would for a moment deny a just wage. But there is a point at which wages pass from just to unjust description. And when the wage passes this boundary it becomes a burden upon the whole body of producers. So that the burden is felt in the living cost. The men who receive the wages bring about increases in living cost and then they want still higher wages.

The labor agitators—and this is said with all respect for such labor organizations as are acting patriotically—are seeking to increase the spirit of dissatisfaction and rapacity. This is particularly true among the unskilled forms of labor. And nowhere more than among the farm hands. The labor agitators are now seeking to organize these into unions, and unless the government is aroused to the situation it may wake to find the Industrial Workers of the World—an alien labor organization set for making all the trouble for the United States it can—with the farm labor of the country organized under its direction. Already the farm hands are demanding as much as five dollars a day for harvesting the crops upon which the nation and the Allies depend so much.

THINK THEY HIT U-BOAT

Officers of British Liner Tell of Encounter.

An Atlantic Port, July 6.—Confidence that their gunners had added another victim to the list of German submarines sunk was expressed by the officers of a British liner which reached this port yesterday.

Attacked on the morning of June 26 by the U-Boat, which suddenly appeared about 500 yards off, the liner's course was promptly changed.

Also at the same instant the stern gun was fired and a shell sped toward the submarine. A column of black smoke spirted into the air and the U-boat sunk under the waves, leading the observers to believe a hit had been scored.

The German government has raised practically all restrictions heretofore imposed on American citizens and has allowed them an extraordinary free scope of movement, Berlin dispatches state. Except for the handful of Americans that may be under suspicion the citizens of the United States in Germany are now allowed to go freely from one place to another without having to apply for police visas. Regulations governing their outdoor movements have been rescinded. Americans are thus treated virtually as neutrals.

In a pitched battle yesterday at Raccoon, Ky., Deputy Sheriff Andrew Sheppard killed Charles Wise and Abraham Sams and wounded John Sams. Sheppard fired only three shots. His adversaries fired a fusillade. Sheppard had gone to serve warrants on Wise and Sams when he was attacked.

Failing to end his life by cutting his wrist with a safety razor blade, Richard Adam Timmerscheidt, a naturalized German, jumped to his death yesterday from a window of his apartment on the tenth floor of a batchelors' hotel in New York.

Poker is no game for a minister to play, Rev. Alex. Alohlin, of Hackensack, N. J., sadly admitted yesterday after causing the arrest of three men he says fleeced him out of $160 by using marked cards. The minister's wife, who also played, discovered the cards were marked, he said.

During debate in the Saxon diet on Wednesday strong demands were made for political reforms. Some of the speakers declared that the Saxons were only fighting for their own king and not the German empire.

Several tons of explosive bombs were dropped by British aeroplanes on Tuesday and Wednesday nights on German seaplane sheds at Ostend, aerodromes at Ghisteltes and Nieuwunster and the Zarnen railway station. All the British machines returned safely.

At the close of a meeting addressed by "Mother" Jones, attended by striking railway employees of Bloomington, Ill., a riot broke out. One man was shot and cars were stoned. The motorman and conductor of one of the cars were severely injured by thrown bricks. The mob attacked the electric light plant which furnished current for the city and street-railway company. As a result Bloomington was dark last night.

VIRGINIA NEWS

Announcement was made yesterday in Rochester, New York of the appointment of Dr. John Lloyd, superintendent of the Virginia State Tuberculosis Sanitarium at Catawabs, Va., as superintendent of Iola Sanitarium at Rochester.

A jury in the United States District Court Tuesday awarded Hugh Gordon Miller, a New York attorney, $3,000 for services rendered as attorney in litigation brought by John Armstrong Chaloner in New York in 1912 against Sherman, the trustee, over Chaloner's share of a larger estate. Today the court will hear a similar action brought by William Dick Reed, of New York, for $3,000, claimed to be due for legal services rendered Chaloner in connection with litigation over the same estate.

A new set of conditions that has suddenly developed in the Cape Charles section of the potato belt has struck the farmers and dealers a body blow and may end by keeping the potatoes at very nearly the high prices they are bringing now. This is the discovery of the ruination of plants through the plague of a kind of flea which bids fair to completely ruin the late planting, on which the farmers were depending for this year's expected bumper crop.

A telegram has been received in Fredericksburg announcing the drowning Monday night of Henry Byrd Middleton, son of Mr. and Mrs. I. H. Middleton, of Fredericksburg, at Yorktown. Young Middleton enlisted in the United States Navy on May 22 last, and was assigned to a battleship. Middleton was only eighteen years of age.

Charles Arthur Short, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Short, of Petersburg, was dangerously injured Wednesday afternoon by being run over by an automobile. The boy had been spending the day at Lakemont Park with several of his companions, and was waiting for a car at the crossing of the B. and A. Railroad and the county road, when a Ford automobile, driven at a high rate of speed, ran him down. The driver of the car did not stop to ascertain the damage done, but put on more speed and disappeared down the road.

BLAMES LIQUOR FOR RIOTS

Senators Discuss St. Louis Riots During Food Bill Arguments.

The East St. Louis race riots have made Senator Sherman, of Illinois, a bone-dry Senator. He made this statement on the floor of the Senate yesterday. At the same time, Senator Thomas, of Colorado, stated that the I. W. W. was responsible to a degree for the riots. The American Federation of Labor indignantly denied that trade unionists were to blame for the trouble.

"I have no words of apology for the slaughter in my State," said Sherman, in the course of a speech on prohibition. "It would never have happened except for the increasing contempt for law and order now springing up all over this country with a grand procession of criminals. It is the saloonkeepers of East St. Louis and their kind who lead the van of every lawless element that is breeding its infamous vermin upon every community where they are suffered to exist."

"I am a bone-dry Senator from now on." Senator Thomas called the I. W. W. "an organized band of murderers and assassins, banded together to destroy life and property." He said that prohibition as a moral issue failed of any attention for a century. Yet, asserted he, when it was brought up as an industrial question, it commanded every attention.

PORTO RICANS REGISTERING

Indications Are That Total Will Exceed Estimates.

San Juan, P. R., July 6.—Military registration in compliance with the proclamation of President Wilson was progressing rapidly and in good spirit throughout the island today, according to reports received by the military registration committee.

Indications were that the total registrations would exceed the preliminary estimates in many districts. In San Juan more than 1,100 had registered at 10 o'clock this morning, with more than that number waiting in line before the registration booths.

Because of the need for baptismal certificates, so that the men registering could determine their age, Bishop W. A. Jones issued instructions to all priests to furnish certificates free of charge and to facilitate the registration work in every way.

KILLED BY MINISTER'S AUTO.

Ten-Year-Old Girl Raa in Front of His Car.

Westminster, Md., July 6.—Helen Gertrude Long, aged 10 years, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Long, this city, was killed yesterday afternoon by the automobile of the Rev. Harry G. Spencer, of Winchester, Va.

The child ran across the street in front of her home to get on a watering cart which was passing when the automobile came along. It struck and knocked her down under the right wheel, which passed over her stomach. She died a few minutes after being rescued.

Mr. Spencer was exonerated by the jury of inquest after a number of witnesses testified the accident was unavoidable.

WOMEN ARMED FOR WAR

Russian Amazons, With Their Hair Cropped, Have Colors Blessed.

Petrograd, July 6.—The colors of the first detachment of the Petrograd women's regiment were blessed in the square of St. Isaac's Cathedral yesterday. More than 200 women, with their hair closely cropped and in full uniforms, were present, armed with rifles. Don Cossacks and sailors furnished a guard of honor.

Later the women paraded through the Nevsky Prospect and other streets, carrying banners with the inscriptions "Death is better than shame" and "Women, do not give your hands to traitors."

New York, July 6.—The Consul of Uruguay in this city has received the following telegram from Minister of Foreign Affairs of his country:

"On the occasion of American Independence Day a huge meeting organized by the students of Montevideo went to the American legation, and taking the American flag, paraded with it through the streets amidst enthusiastic acclamations of the entire population. The city is profusely decorated with American flags and the people overjoyed. The arrival of the American squadron is anxiously awaited and will be received with the highest honors and affection by Government and people."

PROUD YEAR FOR SOUTHERN.

18,000,000 Passengers Were Carried During 1916 and Not One Killed.

The Southern Railway handled approximately 18,000,000 passengers during the fiscal year ended June 30 last, without a single one being killed. President Fairfax Harrison announced yesterday. His statement said this record reflects "not only greater human care and efficiency in operation, but the improved facilities which have been installed on the Southern in recent years."

In handling these passengers 71,775 trains and 249,780 cars were required. If the trains were stood end to end they would extend 5,457 miles.

Distinct Growth of Anti-German Sentiment Is Seen in Mexico.

El Paso, Tex., July 6.—Since the pro-German campaign in Mexico was first started by El Universal in Mexico City, the sentiment favoring the allies has reached northern Mexico, and during the past 30 days a well defined movement favoring an open break with Germany and the alignment of Mexico on the side of the entente allies has developed. This has been in spite of the pro-German sentiments published daily in Chihuahua city and in papers believed to be subsidized by the Germans elsewhere in the north.

A reflection of this sentiment was seen recently in the statement by Gen. Francisco Gonzales, acting commander-in-chief of the northwestern military zone, with headquarters at Chihuahua. He was overcharged by the German firm of Ketelsen and Degetau for some padlocks. The manager was arrested and placed in the penitentiary. The German consul made a demand for his release "in the name of the imperial German government and the kaiser," according to an American officer who was present at the time.

"Tell the German consul he, the imperial government and the kaiser may all go to hell," Gen. Gonzales answered.

Prominent Mexicans, men in close touch with the capital, predict Mexico will declare war on Germany within 30 days. According to these men all German money in the Mexico City, Torreon, Chihuahua city and other banks will be seized as soon as war is declared, the German boats in Tampico and other ports will be seized, thereby giving Mexico a much needed merchant fleet, and all Germans will either be interned or deported at once, their properties being confiscated.

The Tampico oil fields would be made safe for the oil supplies of the allied fleets by declaring a zone in which traffic would be restricted, and the mines, smelters and mills reopened at once to produce munitions metals for the allies.

GERMAN REICHTAG

Announcement of Important War Measures Expected From Berlin. Amsterdam, July 6.—Public interest over the convening of the Reichstag in Berlin yesterday is high here.

It is expected that the German chancellor, Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg, would make an important address, probably touching on peace. A dispatch from Berlin said that the session would likely be a short one and that it would deal with war measures.

In connection with the talk of peace it was reported, from Berlin that the Kaiser is going to Vienna at the end of the week and that "matters of urgent importance" will be discussed in the Austrian capital.

One telegram from Berlin said: "Preliminary to the opening of the Reichstag on Thursday the executive and constitutional committees met on Wednesday. At the meeting of the executive committee Secretary of Foreign Affairs Zimmermann delivered a long and confidential address on Germany's relations with neutral and belligerent powers."

Berlin, July 6.—The recent conference at Austrian headquarters between the Kaiser, Field Marshal von Hindenburg, Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg, and a number of Austrian military and political leaders referred to peace, it was reported from Vienna today.

Von Hindenburg insisted upon another offensive on the eastern front. Finally it was agreed to make another effort and, if that failed, to make concessions in peace terms.

U. S. WANT KENT ISLAND

War Department Plans to Establish Big Station There.

Baltimore, July 6.—It was learned yesterday that the War Department plans to take over Kent Island for war purposes.

Secretary of War Baker has commissioned Howard Bruce, vice-president of the Bartlett-Hayward Company, to secure 90-day options on much of the property on the island. It is understood that the Government will convert the island for war use immediately and eventually establish a military base there. Several weeks ago the peculiar advantages afforded by Kent Island for military purposes were pointed out to Secretary Baker.

A corps of army officers went to the island, and after a thorough inspection, reported to the War Department. Then followed the commissioning of Mr. Bruce. In a week he has succeeded in obtaining options for a large part of the island. Then when sufficient options are obtained the Government will take over the land. No commission will be paid Mr. Bruce.

Kent Island is 17,000 acres in extent and is about nine miles from Annapolis and easily reached from that point. A direct rail communication extends from Stevensville to Philadelphia and New York. The rail facilities, together with the depth of the bay about the island, were large factors in the selection of the site.

What use the Government will make of the island upon its acquisition has not been determined, but it is understood that it may fill a long-felt want for another proving ground. Also it is expected that a military base for the Eastern Department will be established there, but not in the near future.

FERRETING OUT SPIES.

German Marine Insurance Companies Believed to Have Impaired Information.

While all official Washington was puzzling its head yesterday in an effort to determine how German spies could obtain information of the movements of our troops, their strength and other details, a letter received by a high official from Pittsburgh, showed how, through their marine insurance agencies the Germans are able to learn the inmost details of American plans.

It seems that the steamer Manchuria, carrying ammunition and supplies for England, left New York with the transport fleet. In the Narrows she collided with a barge and a hole was stove in her side, necessitating beaching her. The re-insurance on the Manchuria had been placed with German companies. They sent their men out to inspect the ship. In going to the Manchuria these agents passed the transport fleet, then ready to sail.

The Jordan district of Amsterdam was invaded Wednesday by 300 women from the Kattenburg district armed with bayonets, revolvers and stones. A collision with the police took place at the Keizersgracht, a woman firing a shot, but missing the mark. Another collision occurred in the Jewish quarter between strikers and the police.
